

The CEHAO in the 2025 Annual Meetings of ASOR and SBL in Boston

Four members of the CEHAO, Roxana Flammini, Juan Manuel Tebes, Pablo Andñach, and Emanuel Pfoh, were present in the American Society of Overseas Research 2025 Annual Meeting (10-22 November) and in the Society of Biblical Literature Annual Meeting (22-25 November), both held in Boston, USA.

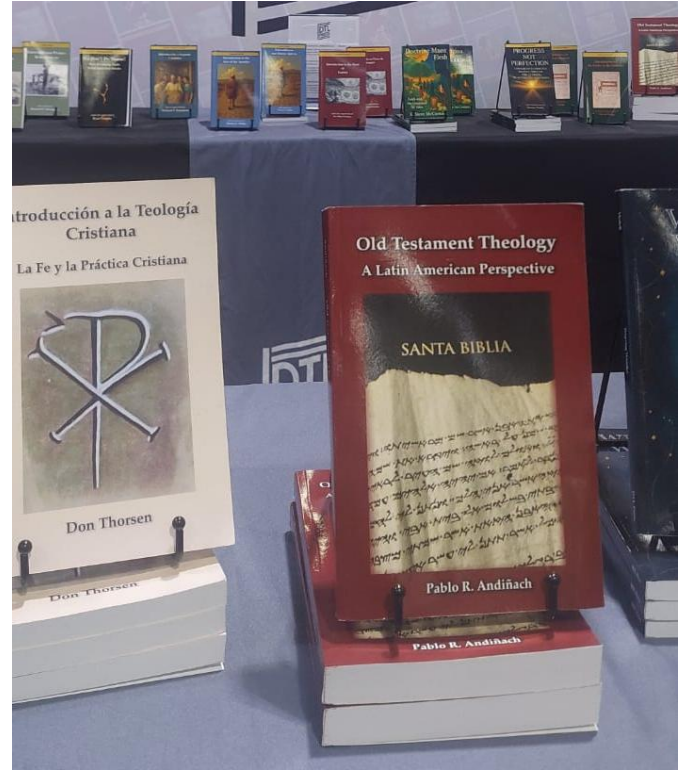

Roxana Flammini presented in the SBL Meeting her book La Segunda Estela de Kamose: Un estudio integral en contexto and presented a paper on “Depicting the Enemies: The Theban and the Hyksos Rulers in the Second Stela of Kamose.”

Juan Manuel Tebes presented in the ASOR Meeting his paper on “Introducing the Desert Cults Mapping Project: A Digital Humanities Tool for Studying the Ancient Sacred Landscapes of the Arid Southern Levant.” He also participated in the SBL Council meeting and Nominating Committee meeting, and visited with colleagues the Harvard Museum of the Ancient Near East.

Pablo Andiañach presented in the SBL Meeting his book Old Testament Theology: A Latin American Perspective and presented his paper on “Poverty in the Biblical World Section and Latino/a/e and Latin American Biblical Interpretation Section.”

Emanuel Pfoh co-organized in the ASOR Meeting a workshop and presented his paper on “The Impact of the Victorian Orientalism on Biblical Studies and the Historiography of Ancient Israel.” He also presented in SBL his paper on “Kinship and Kingship in the Iron Age Southern Levant: Historiographical, Methodological, and Anthropological Notes.”

